

A. TO SPONSOR CUB PACK

Parent-Teacher Association met school for its April meeting on afternoon. It was an unusual in that it was featured by a the Orient Association and from Mr. J. V. Kelly, Scout for this district.

Marian Overton, president, conducted the meeting, which was well and which held the interest of the large gathering from start to finish. The program opened with a playlet by the children of the Grades. It was a fine one. While the children's play was being given, the volume and the assistance of professionals, they made up for the lack by their recitation and by their ingenuity. Costumes showed all of the familiar Mother Goose characters from the pages of Juvenile and the play taught all that the children could find much of interest and become acquainted with many of the characters if they would read the stories available in their library. It was a play with a lesson and the lesson was well presented. The performance of the children was a credit to them and to their teacher, Miss Ruth Walker.

During the play, Mrs. Overton introduced Russell Davison, who spoke in a very way of presenting the real value of the afternoon, on the great part of the organizations which are trying to help boys and girls by supervised activities for the future. His remarks were accorded attention by the gathering. Mr. Davison then spoke on the Cub organization for young boys. He explained the aims of the leaders of the movement and asked the Parent-Teacher Association to sponsor a Cub pack at Southold. At the conclusion of his remarks, Mrs. Overton put the question and on motion duly made and seconded, it was unanimously voted to sponsor such an organization here. The adjournment of the meeting.

al Service at Universalist Church

The Palm Sunday service at the Universalist Church will be of more interest. The musical

Cutchogue Man Dies

Answering Fire Alarm

HORSE KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

Sunday night's storm spelled much trouble for Frank Salter of Greenport. Early Monday morning, Frank was driving his team of horses along North Road to work. Suddenly something happened. One of the horses leaped into the air and fell. Frank jumped off his wagon and grabbed the horse's head, and when he did so, he received a thumping shock.

Investigation showed him that the storm had brought down a high tension light wire and that the horse had stepped on it. The animal was killed instantly. Frank is out a fine horse, but he is a bit grateful that his gloves saved him from getting the full force of the current.

The accident occurred near the residence of Earl Burke about 7 Monday morning.

Story Hour Becomes Popular

The Story Hours for children, which are held every Thursday afternoon in the Southold Library are fast becoming the most popular pastime of our younger boys and girls. When these were begun several months ago, it was hoped that they would prove attractive for the little ones. The constantly increasing attendance and the regularity with which the little ones come are evidence enough of the attraction the Story Hours have.

Mrs. Marian Overton is in charge and relates the stories. Last Thursday found 53 boys and girls eagerly awaiting their good friend and her Thursday afternoon treat. The effect of the Story Hour is evident in the notable increase in the number of juvenile fiction books that are borrowed from the library. Mrs. Overton may well feel proud of her work with these younger boys and girls.

MARY E. (DICKINSON) TUTTILL

The remains of Mary E. Dickinson, widow of Charles H. Tuttil, were interred at Southold on Wednesday, April 9. Mrs. Tuttil died in her 76th

Parker Wickham Instantly Killed Saturday

A slight blaze at Cutchogue last Saturday afternoon brought out the Cutchogue Fire apparatus and the firemen and resulted in the death of one of the members of the department on his way to the scene of the fire.

Parker Wickham, 23, was at his home when the alarm sounded. With him was his brother John, a senior at Cornell. At the first blast of the alarm, Florentino De Jesus, who is employed on the Wickham farm, jumped into his car and started for the fire. The Wickham brothers got into their car and hurried after him. As they drove along east on Main Road, they soon lessened the distance between their car and that of De Jesus. Coming up to the De Jesus car, they had to slow down. A car was approaching in the opposite direction, so that they were obliged to turn slightly to the right as they applied the brakes to avoid the rear of the car ahead. The car skidded when the brakes were applied. John carefully handled the machine and thought he had succeeded in getting the car under control when suddenly it turned over, throwing Parker onto the cement road.

Parker was killed instantly. John was slightly hurt. He was attended by Dr. Stevens and was able to go to his home.

The accident occurred just east of the R. N. Moore garage on Main Road.

Parker Wickham was one of the finest of Cutchogue's young men. He was active in many things, and he was very highly thought of by all who knew him. His sudden taking off cast a shadow over the entire community.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Cora Wickham, and two brothers, John and Henry, he leaves his widow and two young sons, James and Stephen.

Funeral services were held at the home of his mother at Cutchogue on Monday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. F. G. Beebe. Interment was in the Presbyterian Cemetery.